

Monsieur Lafitte, I remitted to you in 1815, at the moment of my departure from Paris, a sum of near six millions, for which you have given me a receipt in duplicate. I have cancelled one of the receipts, and I charge Count Montholon to present you with the other receipt, in order that you may pay to him, after my death, the said sum, with interest at the rate of five per cent, from the first of July, 1815, deducting the payments which you have been instructed to make by virtue of my orders.

I also, at that time, placed in your hands a box containing my cabinet of medals. I beg you will give it to Count Montholon.
